'We Shall Return,' Leader of Bay of Pigs Invaders Pledges

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Talk of another possible thrust against Fidel Castro surged through the Cuban exile colony today even as freed prisoners of the last attempt were reunited with newly arrived relatives.

The relatives, numbering more than 900, came aboard the African Pilot, the vessel that took food and medicine ransom supplies to Castro for release of 1,113 captives taken in the April 1961, Bay of Pigs invasion.

"We shall return," proclaimed Manuel Artime, civilian leader of the attack expedition, who along with other invasion chiefs met with President Kennedy in Palm Beach Thursday.

"Papa Kennedy," as ex-prisoners call the man in the White House, announced that he will attend a ceremony in the Orange Bowl Saturday honoring the brigade. Exiles looking toward future anti-Castro action interpreted this as a hopeful sign.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council, which dispatched the brigade to the Bay of Pigs, declared: "An irrevocable resolution unites all of them (the returned prisoners) to return to Cuba with arms in hand to liberate the country from degrading and brutal vassalage to Soviet Russia."

Several hundreds of the 463 women, 217 men and 242 children who arrived on the African Pilot were quartered in a spacious Miami building provided by the Cuban Refugee Center. The center, operated by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, also provided meals for returnees until they got settled.

Others went to homes of friends or relatives.

The Cuban Families Committee, which, through New York attorney James B. Donovan and with U.S. government help, sponsored the return of the prisoners, reported another boatload of relatives will come.

"The next boat that takes supplies of medicines and foodstuffs to Havana will return with 2,000 more Cubans," said a committee official.

There was no immediate confirmation of this.

Celebrezze, President Discuss Budget

Welfare Proposals Studied By JFK

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy takes a new look today at the administration's health, welfare and education proposals—some of the most controversial items tagged for congressional action in 1963.

Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze flew to this oceanside resort city Thursday to prepare for a mid-morning conference with Kennedy on the Welfare Department's new budget and legislative recommendations.

Accompanying Celebrezze were Assistant Secretary Wilbur J. Cohen and Francis Keppel, the new commissioner of education.

Although all department programs were slated for review, Keppel's presence indicated a major emphasis on education proposals that failed at the last session of Congress.

New proposals the administration is expected to endorse include expanded aid to the mentally retarded and promotion of vocational education.

Kennedy also is expected to renew his advocacy of more federal aid for schools and colleges and expanded student loan and adult education programs.

The President turns his attention to these matters following two days of meetings on his 1963 tax cut plan and a lengthy session with Pentagon leaders on military spending.

Underlying all the talks was the need to pin down final figures for the federal budget which goes to Congress next month. This bulky document will call for outlays of about $99 billion—a new high—in the 12 months starting July 1.

The administration hopes to get a new budget director on the payroll today—provided a qualified Floridian is found to administer the oath.

Wirtz Urges More Talks on Dock Strike

Labor Secretary Says Matter of National Interest

By The Associated Press
Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz has re-entered the crippling dock strike with an urgent plea to both longshoremen and ship owners to resume negotiations in the name of the national interest.

The International Longshoremen's Association's chief negotiator, however, said only a new proposal by the ship owners can break the deadlock. And he expressed doubt about an early end to the six-day strike along the East and Gulf Coasts.

These developments came as the strike saw its first flareup of violence — the shooting of a dockworker who crossed ILA picket lines in Galveston, Tex. The non-union worker was wounded in a foot.

The current strike actually started last October, went on for four days and was halted by a Taft-Hartley law injunction. It was resumed at the expiration of an 80-day cooling off period.

Wirtz, who has been out of the negotiations since the ILA and the ship owners held their last joint bargaining session before the strike started Sunday, scheduled separate meetings with each side.

The labor secretary set a meeting for 4 p.m. today with representatives of the New York Shipping Association, which represents 135 domestic and foreign lines. He set a meeting for 11 a.m. Saturday with the ILA.

Wirtz sent telegrams Thursday to both sides saying: "It is imperative to the national interest that negotiations be resumed."

Five Positions Are Filled In Rhodes' Staff

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes' cabinet is taking shape at a quickening pace, with five positions now filled.

The newest Rhodes appointment came late Thursday when he named Don D. Cook, 48, of Bexley, Columbus suburb, to be director of the Department of Liquor Control when the GOP administration takes office Jan. 14, coupled with one for Lt. Col. Cook's appointment was Floyd C. Moon, assistant superintendent of the Ohio Highway Patrol, as first deputy liquor director in charge of enforcement and permits.

Cook joins these other director-designates for major state departments as an incoming cabinet member: Richard Lowell Krabach of Lima, finance; Pearl E. Masheter of Columbus, highways; George E. Wilson of Akron, industrial and economic development; and Denver L. White of Athens, welfare.

When Rhodes was mayor of Columbus, Cook served as his safety director. Cook served in the Highway Patrol beginning in 1937, then was an FBI agent from 1941 to 1948 when he took a position in the Arson Investigation Bureau of the National Board of Fire Underwriters for Ohio.

Moon, 54, headed the plainclothes division of the patrol for 15 of his 29 years on the force. He has had temporary assignments on several occasions as

Parking Meters Yield Increases

Total of $38,000 Up $10,000 Over 1961

City parking meters took in more than $38,000 this year, City Auditor Helen Coyne revealed Thursday afternoon.

Collections from the 278 street meters totaled $30,477.43. The parking lot at the corner of Penn Ave. and Pershing St., with 161 meters, yielded $2,926.12; the E. State St. lot, with 28 meters, $2,566.88; the lot at the corner of S. Ellsworth Ave. and Pershing St., where 37 meters are in operation, $2,149.60. The city's total intake in 1962 from all 504 meters was $38,120.03.

This year's parking meter yield exceeded 1961's $27,056.02 by more than $10,000. Auditor Coyne attributed the gain to parking rate increases.

Collections from street meters last year was $22,323.41. The parking lot at the corner of Penn

Explosion Blasts Hole In Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP) — The biggest explosive assault ever against the Red wall dividing Berlin was carried out before dawn today.

There was no immediate indication of who set the blast. The explosion ripped a three-foot square hole in the wall and smashed 600 windows in neighboring buildings, including 150 in a fire brigade headquarters.

West Berlin police said it was the biggest explosive charge laid against the wall in its 16 months of existence, although previous smaller explosions have caused more damage to the wall itself.

The explosion went off 100 yards from the site of another explosion Dec. 16. That time three men set a charge and gave themselves up to police five minutes before it went off.

Both blasts went off in the Jerusalem Strasse, 800 yards from the U.S. Army's checkpoint Charlie, at Friedrichstrasse.

Nobody was hurt in today's explosion but a wooden weather shelter used by West Berlin police was ripped apart. It was empty at the time.

The explosion was heard for miles.

The East Germans rushed six extra border guards to the hole.

14-Year Member of Police Force

Zahrndt Is Named Chief At Lisbon

LISBON — Policeman Leon T. Zahrndt, 48, will become chief of police Jan. 1, succeeding Roy E. (Ching) Patterson who is retiring Monday after 17 years on the force. He has been chief since August.

Mayor Dean Stockman appointed Zahrndt to the post Thursday at Council's year-end meeting. Council confirmed the appointment unanimously. The chief's salary is $390, a raise of $45 per month for the veteran officer.

Zahrndt will be the town's third chief of police in six months. Chief Dalton E. Pike retired last August after 33 years as marshal and chief. He entered Salem City Hospital Wednesday for observation after being unable to shake off a heavy cold.

Receives Lions Club Award

Lieder Display Wins Yule Lighting Contest

A dazzling display featuring Christmas trees formed of colored lights and a Santa Claus parachuting down the chimney won the grand prize of a $50 defense bond for Henry Lieder of 1567 N. Lincoln Ave. in the Salem Lions Club Yule decorating contest.

Lieder's outdoor exhibit was judged the best Thursday night by a panel of judges from Youngstown. Lieder also won first in the rural area last year when the contest was divided into two sections: Salem proper and rural areas. This year no division was made and Salem city residents vied with Perry Township residents for the prizes.

William Readshaw general chairman, announced these other winners in special categories:

Paul Stiffler of Golf Club Rd., best over-all display; Mrs. D. C. Davis of 1076 Highland Ave., best tree display; Mrs. Albert Zimmerman of Ohio Blvd., Salem Heights, best religious display; Harold Ehrhart, rear of 1299 1/2 S. Lincoln Ave., best Santa Claus display; and Paul Eskay of 1364 E. 11th St., best doorway display.

The five category winners will be given $25 prizes.

Carpenter Shop Razed; Other Buildings Saved

Firemen From Two Departments Fight Blaze Four Hours

A carpenter shop housing the milling operations of the North Lima Lumber Co. on West South Range Road was destroyed by fire this morning. The loss was unofficially estimated at $25,000.

Also destroyed in the flames which consumed the 100 foot square, one-story building was a number of expensive saws, planes and drills and a quantity of lumber and door and window frames.

Fought Fire Four Hours

For four hours Fire Chief Cecil Horn and his Beaver Township firemen, aided by the Boardman Township fire department, fought the blaze that started at 6 a.m. They saved the warehouse full of lumber and the main office, located about 25 feet from the flaming building. No one was injured.

Manager Paul McMurray reported the fire probably broke out either as a result of a short circuit in the wall switch that controls the machinery or difficulty in a central heater.

Fire Fighters Hampered

Quelling and containing the flames were made extra difficult because of burning bits of sawdust blown about by the wind in the sub-freezing temperatures.

After the fire was brought under control, a skeleton force was kept at the scene to prevent burning debris from igniting the other structures and a nearby dwelling occupied by the Henry Linebaugh family.

The fire was discovered by Clarence Wilhelm who lives on S. Range Rd. as he was en route to work. He reported the blaze to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Goodman, who live above the fire station and receive fire calls.

The lumber company, which is located between the Youngstown and Southern Railroad tracks and Route 165, was bought this year by the Joseph Bucheit and Sons Co. of Youngstown after former longtime owner Fred Jennings moved to Florida.

Train Victim Still In Serious Condition

The condition of Floyd Riley, 34, of 693 W. State St., passenger in an automobile hit by a Pennsylvania Railroad train at the W. Wilson St. crossing at 6:47 a.m. Thursday, continued to be reported as serious today in Youngstown South Side Hospital.

Riley was taken to the Youngstown hospital with compound fractures of both elbows, fractured jaw and possible internal injuries.

The driver of the car, Russell Doyle, 42, of Damascus is reported in "fairly good" condition at the Salem City Hospital. Doyle was treated for lacerations of the chin and left hand and for possible head injuries.

Riley and Doyle were en route to their jobs at the E. W. Bliss Co. at dawn Thursday when the accident happened.

Witnesses told police the railroad gates were not working at the time of the mishap. A spokesman for the Pennsylvania Railroad said today that the company is making "a thorough investigation and running tests on signals and other equipment" in Salem today.

County Judges Receive Raises

Salaries Boosted $1,000 to $4,901

LISBON — A $1,000 per year raise for Columbiana County's three county court judges has been voted by county commissioners.

Beginning Tuesday, the annual salary will be $4,901.68 for Judge J. L. MacDonald, southwest area court, Lisbon; Judge Luther Donbar, northwest area court, Salem; and Judge Herbert E. Arfman, eastern area court, East Palestine.

All are beginning new terms Tuesday—Judge MacDonald for two years and the others for four years.

The judges' base salary of $3,901 was based on county population as provided by the state code. The law also gives commissioners authority to increase judges' salaries but not during a judge's term of office.

Commissioners Thursday renewed a four-year lease for Eastern area court building and purchased

To Keep Tab on Human Testing

Dr. Kelsey Heads New Drug Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Frances O. Kelsey, hailed as national heroine for keeping thalidomide off the American market, today was put at the head of a new U.S. office which will pass on requests to test new drugs on humans.

Her appointment as director of the investigational drug branch was part of a reorganization at the Food and Drug Administration's new drug division which was approved today by Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze.

In a statement Celebrezze said the retooling of the drug division into five branches will permit the FDA to cope with its increased responsibilities in the new drug area.

As a backlash of the outcry over thalidomide — a sedative blamed for deformities of thousands of infants born in Europe

Congress last October enacted a law giving the FDA stronger authority over production and sales of prescription drugs.

In Effort To Cut Down Driving

Nightclubs Offering New Year's Eve 'Deals'

NEW YORK (AP)—A number of establishments catering to New Year's Eve celebrants are emphasizing programs to keep their patrons off the highways.

Setting the pace are big clubs and hotels in Los Angeles. A newspaper cafe columnist says police warning on drunken driving, police roadblocks and a crackdown on traffic violations have made it harder to lure people out of the big suburban areas for an evening of celebrating in the city.

Several Los Angeles hotels are offering a free room with their package deals for the evening at prices up to $67.

One hotel's plan includes a party at the Coconut Grove, a night's lodging and a bus ride the next morning to the Rose Parade in Pasadena.

A hotel in Beverly Hills, Calif., has changed its package deal to exclude drinks, making the price cheaper, and eliminating the obligation of celebrators to drink up their money's worth before heading home.

Howard Johnson's motor lodge chain in Columbus, Ohio, has a $17-per-couple deal with overnight accommodations for two, dancing, swimming, buffet supper and breakfast on New Year's Day.

To carry out the new law and to make administration changes the FDA proposed a rash of tighter regulations which after being discussed and criticized are now being redrafted.

An FDA spokesman said today that the regulations dealing with the testing of drugs on humans will be issued fairly soon.

Dr. Kelsey's investigational drug branch, according to the FDA announcement, "is being established to evaluate reports of proposed clinical tests of new drugs" which manufacturers and others will submit in compliance with the investigational drug regulations.

"Frankly, I don't know what it (the new job) will consist of," until the regulations come out, Dr. Kelsey told a newsmen.

Merrill To Star On 'Voice of Firestone'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The career of Robert Merrill, the Brooklyn born baritone, has taken a new twist since the night, several years ago, he first sat down, crossed his knees comfortably and, prodded gently by Jack Paar, started reminiscing.

Merrill was then no stranger to broadcasting. He had been singing in front of microphones since his teens. He once had a radio show of his own. He had become a Metropolitan opera star, a recording star and a concert star.

"But after the exposure on the old 'Tonight Show,'" he continued, "people started hailing me on the street, addressing me as "Bob" and treating me like an old friend.

"I think that being recognized as a person has resulted in my being more effective because I can introduce TV friends—particularly young people—to good music."

Merrill will be soloist on Sunday night's "Voice of Firestone" program on ABC singing "Pagliacci" and Oscar Straus. Then, on Jan. 13, he'll turn up on a tribute to composer Richard Rodgers singing "Some Enchanted Evening" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

"See?" he asked. "I can sing opera and popular music—because the public now accepts me as a person, not just an opera singer."

Reorganization of ABC's news operation, long rumored, will be effective Jan. 14.

James C. Hagerty, network news vice president, said that the changes are logical steps in the network's expansion of its news and special events programming.

"We've got more programming on the network, we've got more personnel, we've established more news bureaus around the world and we've expanded our Washington staff," Hagerty reported.

"Now at the start of our third year, we're starting to remedy our production weaknesses—and we would have done it sooner except that the Cuban crisis slowed us down."

Hagerty continues over-all supervision and makes policy decisions, but two assistants will relieve him of administrative and operational responsibility.

JFK To Review Cuban Invaders

Battle Flag To Be Given To President

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Cuban fighters who survived the Bay of Pigs invasion will give President Kennedy their combat flag—"the greatest treasure we possess"—when he reviews their brigade Saturday in Miami's Orange Bowl.

Kennedy will fly to the football stadium in response to a personal invitation from Cuban freedom leaders who promised Thursday "we shall return" to liberate the island.

The Cubans plan to muster the 1,113 survivors of their Brigade 2506, uniformed in khaki trousers and shirts, for a military display.

They exuberantly invited "all residents of Miami and the people of the United States to this ceremony."

The President will make a brief speech.

The ceremony will be televised live by ABC. NBC will delay its telecast for presentation at noon.

A CBS spokesman said no decision had been reached on that network's coverage plans.

After meeting for an hour and 10 minutes with Kennedy at his vacation headquarters here Thursday, five Cuban leaders held a dramatic press conference in which they reported that the President told them "he hoped some day to visit a free Cuba."

They said Kennedy praised the heroic efforts the invaders made in an attempt to free their homeland and "in defense of the democracies of the world."

Wearing somber black suits, white shirts and black ties, the five Cubans said they feel they owe a debt to those who gave their lives in the U.S.-backed invasion of April 1961 which was crushed by Fidel Castro's government forces at the Bay of Pigs.

"We will pay our debt by freeing our country," said Manuel Artima, the political leader of the invasion brigade.

Ernesto Oliva, second in command of the invasion unit, described the historic flag the brigade wants Kennedy to have. He said it had gone with the men through their pre-invasion training and flown over their command post for three days in the battle of the Bay of Pigs.

"We will be giving President Kennedy the greatest treasure that we possess at the present time," Oliva declared.

The court suspended a $20 fine imposed on Marilyn Summers, 26, Minerva RD 2, who pleaded no contest to a charge of failure to yield the right of way.

Richard Tinlin, 18, Dellroy, forfeited a $15 appearance bond on a speeding charge.

The State Highway Patrol made all three arrests.

Program Sure To Displease Some

Battle Lines Drawn On Proposed Tax Cut

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Anything as popular as lower taxes shouldn't be a call to battle. But the program which the Kennedy administration has drawn up at Palm Beach, Fla., and which it will disclose to Congress in about two weeks in chilly Washington, finds the battle lines well established even before the details are known.

Business wants one kind of tax cut. Labor makes it plain it wants another. The administration may well want a third.

Liberals favor tax cutting—it along certain lines—and forget about any Treasury deficits. Conservatives frown on tax cutting unless government spending also drops so the federal budget can be kept in balance, or nearly so.

The amount of the reduction is in dispute. The timing of the cut is, too. And, above all, the question is who gets the cut and how much—and will be offset by loss of certain privileges in the present tax laws.

California Claims To Have Biggest Population In U.S.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California, or some of its chambers of commerce, whopped it up today to celebrate the state's disputed claim to the biggest population in the nation.

New York, still No. 1 in the 1960 census, has challenged California's claim. Each state had an estimated population of 17.4 million this month.

California residents were urged by state officials and some chambers of commerce to give a four-day "California First" celebration a rousing send-off with bells, cannons, auto horns and factory whistles.

Some chambers demurred, saying it smacked of Texas-style bragging.

Dissidents noted that bigness had its problems, such as smog, congested freeways, crowded schools and high taxes.

Los Angeles, which probably has more to toot about than any other area, planned no special observance.

Some communities have already observed the state's emergence and others were celebrating today.

An illuminated sign on the San Francisco side of the bay bridge flashed population estimates showing California leading New York.

Three Area Artists To Exhibit In Show

Three area artists are among exhibitors in the 15th annual Ohio opening Tuesday at the Butler Institute of American Art in Youngstown.

Harry Benour of Salem, Rae Coulter of Leetonia and Eva Lee Delfs of Canfield have entries in the show running through Feb. 24.

Charles Lakofsky, professor of art at Bowling Green State University, selected 284 of 507 entries for the show which includes ceramics, enamels, mosaic, jewelry and sculpture in metal, clay, wood, stone and marble.

Judges awarded Henry Lin of Athens first prize of $150 for a stoneware vase.

SEEK HIT-RUN DRIVER

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Police and Butler County sheriff's deputies hunted a hit-run motorist today in the pedestrian death of Julius Ford, 69, near his home about one-half mile north of Hamilton.

Ford was killed Thursday night, deputies said.

DIES OF WOUNDS

CINCINNATI (AP)—Fred T. Bryant of Manchester died at Good Samaritan Hospital Thursday of gunshot wounds suffered Dec. 21 in a Manchester poolroom brawl.

Sheriff Eugene Fulton of Adams County said the 58-year-old farmer was shot in the abdomen by Ernal Henderson, 57, a poolroom employee who said Bryant threatened him with a bottle. No charge was filed immediately.

28 Tons of Food Issued At Centers

The Columbiana County Welfare Department issued nearly 28 tons of 11 surplus food items last week at the five distribution centers in Salem, Lisbon, East Liverpool, Wellsville and East Palestine.

Welfare Director Robert Bycroft said 3,149 persons shared in the December distribution. They represented nearly 87 per cent of the 3,937 certified eligible.

A breakdown of the 55,468-pound issue follows, with weights: Dried milk, 7,011; rice, 3,104; flour, 14,440; rolled wheat, 3,819; corn meal, 805; beans 7,048; shortening, 3,786; butter, 3,395; cheese, 3,246; peanut butter, 2,032; canned meat 6,782.

Akron Man Named To Succeed Judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced today the appointment of Harry N. Van Berg, former Akron law director, as Akron Municipal Court judge to succeed Judge C. B. McRae, who died last week.

The governor said VanBerg will serve until a successor is elected and qualified.

VanBerg was among five prospects recommended for appointment by the Akron and Summit County Bar Association.

On Cattle Honor Roll
Two prize cows in Glenn Shreve's Holstein-Friesian herd at Damascus this month achieved cattedom's honor roll.

The breed association in Brattleboro, Vt., reported that Carol-dale Pride Fries 3452276 and Card-oldale Pride May 3564973 have attained lifetime production totals above 100,000 pounds.

The former cow produced 106,583 pounds of milk and 4,170 pounds of butterfat in 2,960 days while her herd mate gave 100,156 pounds of milk and 3,980 pounds of butterfat in 2,716 days on official test.

This volume of production represents about five times the lifetime total of the average U.S. Dairy cow.

Cuban Crisis Is No. 1 Story Of The Year

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A radio-television broadcast that sent the fear of nuclear war around the world touched off the top news story of 1962.

This was the announcement by President Kennedy of the Cuban quarantine. The quarantine and ensuing developments were voted the No. 1 story by editors of Associated Press member newspapers and radio and TV stations.

KENNEDY'S announcement came Oct. 22 after a week of tense conferences and veiled mobilization by U.S. armed forces. The crisis was born when U.S. aerial reconnaissance planes returned with photographic evidence of Russian missiles on Cuba.

While a jittery world held its breath, Soviet ships with unknown orders steamed toward the U.S. Naval blockade.

The Navy came alongside 55 Cuba-bound ships, then let them pass through.

After a series of statements that began with bluster and moderated to surprising compromise, Premier Khrushchev agreed that Russia would demolish its missile sites in Cuba, took his rockets and jet bombers home and said a U.N. team could conduct on-site inspection in Cuba.

Cuban Premier Castro balked at on-site inspection, but the high tension had eased.

SECOND PLACE in the editor's poll went to Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. Americans, smarting from the 17-orbit space trip of Cosmonaut Gherman Titov in August 1961, followed Glenn with nail-biting concern through 10 postponements of his flight, the blast-off of his Friendship 7 spacecraft the morning of Feb. 20, the four-hour 56-minute, three-orbit flight, and his safe recovery in the Atlantic.

The President flew to Cape Canaveral to pin a medal on Glenn; New Yorkers threw a record 3,474 tons of confetti and ticker tape during his Broadway parade; Glenn received 30,000 fan letters within a month, and most people said there hadn't been anything like it since Lindbergh.

WHEN NEGRO James Meredith enrolled in the previously all-white University of Mississippi, the clash of federal and state power and subsequent violence made a dramatic story editors chose No. 3.

Meredith, 29-year-old Negro, registered at Ole Miss on Oct. 1. Earlier, Gov. Ross Barnett denied Meredith admission to the school three times. The courts found the governor guilty of contempt; President Kennedy federalized the Mississippi national guard and sent in federal troops. On Sunday, Sept. 30, Barnett announced he would not close the university to block integration.

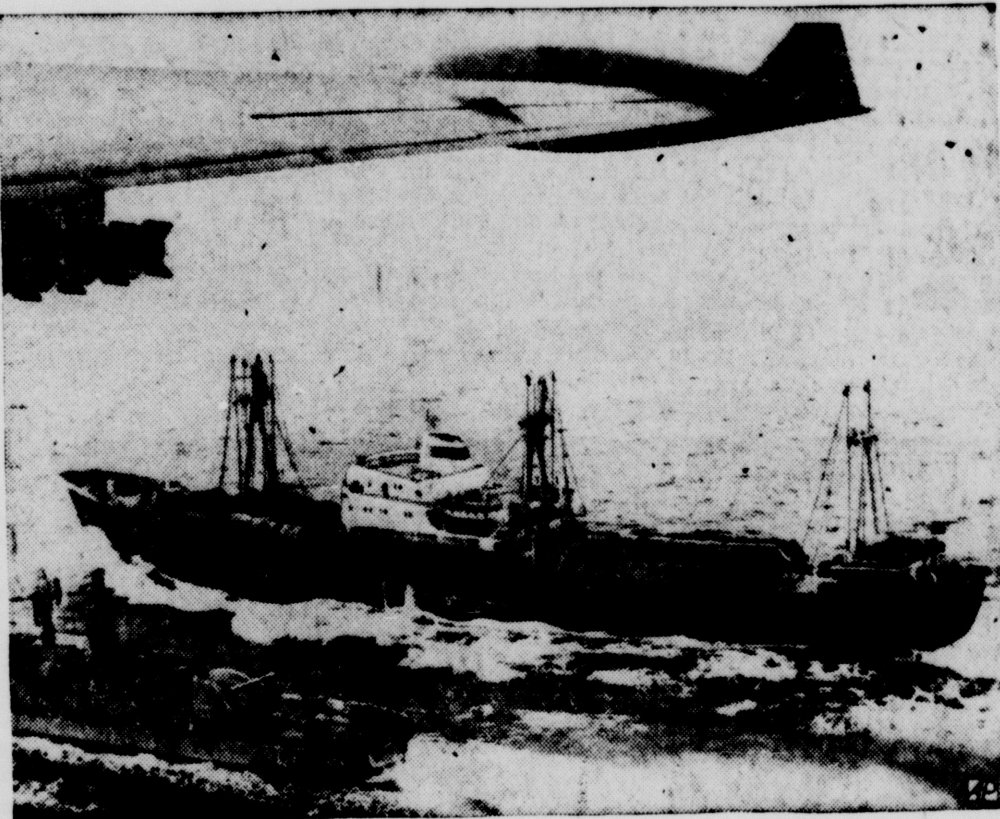

Meredith then was escorted on campus and a night-long riot erupted in which two men were killed and scores injured. Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker was arrested for inciting students, who kept heckling Meredith long after the troops moved out and he began attending classes.

OTHER CHOICES in the editors' top 10:

4. A new word, thalidomide, the name of a sleeping pill-tranquilizer drug, entered the nation's vocabulary in 1962. News of the drug startled a world that learned it caused deformed babies when taken by pregnant women. Mrs. Sherri Finkbine of Phoenix, whose husband had brought her thalidomide from Europe, filed suit in a state court for permission to have an abortion. Her case dismissed, she got an abortion in Sweden.

Dr. Frances Kelsey of the Food and Drug Administration kept thalidomide from being licensed for sale in the United States, so few thalidomide-deformed babies were born here. But experts put the total of babies born without limbs or otherwise deformed because of the drug at upwards of 10,000, most of them in West Germany.

5. The stock market, after a jagged five-month decline, on

ENFORCING THE QUARANTINE — The U. S. Navy radar picket ship Vesole comes alongside the Soviet vessel Volgoles Nov. 9 somewhere in the Atlantic Ocean. The wing of a Navy patrol plane is seen overhead.

GLENN CLIMBS INTO CAPSULE — Astronaut John Glenn climbs into the Friendship 7 Mercury capsule atop the Atlas rocket at Cape Canaveral Feb. 20. Glenn orbited the earth three times, was greeted as a national hero on his return from space.

May 28, took its greatest plunge since Oct. 28, 1929. The number of shares sold May 28—9.3 million—was the fifth greatest since Black Tuesday, Oct. 29, 1929.

The market gained on May 29, slumped again through the summer then rallied mildly towards the year's end.

6. Red Chinese soldiers, announcing they were repelling Indian aggression, advanced Oct. 20 on two fronts across the 2,500-mile India-Tibet border. Poorly armed Indian troops fell back; Prime Minister Nehru ousted Defense Minister Krishna Menon from his cabinet, and asked for arms from Britain and America. When the Red Chinese called a cease-fire Nov. 21, they were within 25 miles of India's populous plains of Assam.

7. The Steelworkers' Union and steel companies signed a contract April 5 which gave 10 cents an hour in benefits but no pay increase, after President Kennedy asked that they hold down inflation. Five days later, U.S. Steel Co. announced it was raising the price of steel $6 a ton, within three days, eight other companies announced corresponding hikes. A angered Kennedy sent aides to steelmen whose companies had not yet raised prices; the Justice Department threatened a grand jury investigation into price fixing and whether U.S. Steel should be broken up. Steel quickly returned to its former price.

8. An off-year election campaign which failed to spark much enthusiasm resulted in continuation of the Democrats gained four seats in the Senate, for a 68-32 split, lost two in the House, still lead 259-176. The Solid South and rock-ribbed New England broke tradition with Oklahoma electing its first Republican governor and Vermont and New Hampshire their first Democratic governors in generations. Republicans became governors of some populous states—New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan. Biggest casualty of the election was former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who presumably reached the end of his political career with defeat in California.

9. Cosmonaut Maj. Andrian Nikolayev spent Aug. 11-15 orbiting the world 64 times in his space-ship Vostok III, traveling more than 1.6 million miles in 96 hours, 25 minutes. Circling in space at the same time was Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, in Vostok IV. Popovich was up 71 hours, 59 minutes Aug. 12-15, for 48 orbits and nearly 1.24 million miles. The Soviet space twins made radio and visual contact and said later that though they were at one time only three miles apart, they did not attempt a rendezvous.

10. Billie Sol Estes, big wheel-dealer from Pecos, Tex., was arrested by the FBI March 29, testified April 4 that his assets were $20 million and his liabilities $32 million and found himself and his financial empire the subject of investigations by the Senate, House, federal and state grand juries, the Texas attorney general and the Department of Agriculture.

Charges piled up portraying Estes as having undercut competition to become the biggest liquid fertilizer dealer in West Texas, collected $30 million from farmers on imaginary storage tanks, illegally obtained 3,000 acre of cotton allotments and received $8 million in federal funds for storage of surplus government grain.

Estes was later sentenced in Tyler, Tex., to eight years in prison on criminal charges of swindling and theft, awaits trial on other state and federal charges.

Office Ordeal

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals is dressing up for an office function.

"It's a meeting of the 35-year club," says the boss crisply, "probably call on you for a few remarks. Black tie, of course."

Of course, black tie.

But what does that mean? It means a dinner jacket and a bowtie under your second chin.

A dinner jacket? The last one you have left in the family is one you have inherited from your great-great uncle, the man who made a wry face at the camera before Appomattox.

You try it on and your wife says:

"The South may rise again, but not in that uniform. It won't do, dandyman."

So you go to the merchants who rent tuxes, and come home with one for $12.50-a waiter's special.

"That's more like it," says your wife, swiping widely at the moths.

So you go to the party feeling tall and black-and-white proud. Wonderful. The feeling of mutuality among others flows through you like the pulse of a favorite artery.

You feel like a king of the hill in the crowd. You are so proud you buy a round of drinks. An old-timer, pausing in the middle of a chorus of "Sweet Adeline," buys a round and says:

"I've been retired for three years, and life is wonderful. How do you stand?" he says.

"Well," you tell him hopefully, "I've only got 12 years, 3 months, 4 days and 27 minutes to go—but the firm is so much fun to work with now that sometimes I forget the exact distance I have left to enjoy."

"Cheer up," says the old-timer comfortably. "It was my experience with the organization that the first 41 years were the easiest. But the last two years, five months, two weeks, three days and 16 minutes were awfully hum-drum. They kinda got on my nerves."

"Yes, sir," you agree, thinking it will be some time until you yourself will reach the 41-year mark, and you feel prematurely tired.

As the party breaks up, one of the old-timers thrusts a burning cigar into the lape, of your rented tux, and demands fiercely:

"Do you think any man will ever beat Babe Ruth's record of 714 home runs?"

No, sir.

Hoffa Home For Christmas

For the fourth time in five years, the U.S. Department of Justice has failed to convict James R. Hoffa. His $1 million conspiracy trial has ended up with a hung jury.

When James R. Hoffa came on the national scene in 1956 as a bidder for Teamster Union leadership in the East, no one foresaw the power he would develop if he got the top job.

At that time, the Detroit Teamster leader's prospects for taking over James Beck's Teamster empire were clouded by doubt that he could swing the proposition.

But one year later the name of James R. Hoffa was associated with more headline news than any other individual in the union movement in the United States. He was, longer was he a local boy bidding for power, congressional investigations and the courts. His fame had spread from coast to coast. No He was a power in himself — a giant in unionism.

WHETHER he was facing congressional investigators in hearing rooms or prosecuting legal advisers bristled with self-assurance. attorneys in courtrooms, Mr. Hoffa and his

They defied the Department of Justice to dig them out of their entrenched positions. They brought to the legal showdown the best legal talent money could hire, and time after time it proved its worth by outmaneuvering the government's local talent.

A hung jury in the latest instance represents a shattering defeat for the Department of Justice. The fact the jury did not vote for an acquittal of Hoffa is obscured by the fact it did not vote for a finding of guilty against the defendant. The government attorneys thought they had a strong case.

But like the other strong cases they thought they had before, they lost this one, too. The question is whether the legendary James R. Hoffa is subject to ordinary rules of procedure; whether he has grown so big the government cannot hope to bring a successful action against him.

It is not as if he were being found not guilty. It is as if he were no longer susceptible to circumstances that would bring findings of guilty against defendants less able than he is to defend themselves.

U. S. DISTRICT Judge William E. Miller has ordered an investigation of heretofore secret FBI testimony that two members of the original jury were tampered with by Hoffa associates. Although they were replaced, the judge may suspect that the tampering did not stop with their cases.

Mr. Hoffa takes the attitude he is being persecuted by the U. S. attorney general. He goes out of his way to express his dislike for Robert Kennedy, the President's brother, who heads the Department of Justice and formerly was chief counsel for the McClellan committee.

Anyway, Mr. Hoffa was home for Christmas in 1962, safe and sound, as everybody thought he would be.

His immunity to federal prosecution is the next best thing to betting on the New York Yankees to win the American League pennant.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Did Castro really come out on top? Now that the 1,113 prisoners have been ransomed at a cost estimated at $70 million and President Kennedy has abandoned the idea of on-site inspection of missile bases in Cuba, the promise made by the President that Cuba will not be invaded takes on new significance.

David Lawrence
new significance

If Castro is immune from invasion — and if this means, also, that the United States has obligated itself to prevent any expedition by Cuban exiles from landing in Cuba to liberate their countrymen — then the Communist ruler of Cuba has indeed achieved a substantial victory for himself.

All the documents on or reports of the official conversations that preceded the withdrawal of the missiles and the later release of the prisoners have not been made public. The world is in the dark as to what deal, if any, was made with Castro, either directly or by inference. But the published material is clear on one point — the United States is committed against any invasion of Cuba to liberate the oppressed people there.

And invasion by the United States government is to be sanctioned only if the Castro regime launches a military attack against another country in this hemisphere.

MR. KENNEDY, in his reply to Soviet Premier Khrushchev on Oct. 27, stated that if the "offensive" weapons were withdrawn from Cuba by the Soviets, then the United States would agree "(A) to remove the quarantine measures now in effect, and (B) to give assurances against an invasion of Cuba."

Then on Nov. 20 in a prepared statement read at his news conference, the President said:

"As for our part, if all offensive - weapons systems are removed from Cuba and kept out of the hemisphere in the future, under adequate verification and safeguards, and if Cuba is not used for the export of aggressive Communist purposes, there will be peace in the Caribbean. And, as I said in September, 'we shall neither initiate nor permit aggression in this hemisphere.'"

"We will not, of course, abandon the political, economic and other efforts of this hemisphere to halt subversion from Cuba, nor our purpose and hope that the Cuban people shall some day be truly free. But these policies are very different from any intent to launch a military invasion of the island."

It didn't take long for Anastas Mikoyan, first deputy premier of the Soviet Union, to convince Castro that Mr. Kennedy had really backed down and that there would be no further attempts through such a project as the Bay of Pigs expedition to invade Cuba again, with or without Cuban exile battalions.

Unquestionably Castro has come to feel secure against intervention from the outside. As a gesture of good will, he released the 1,113 prisoners and got some needed food and medicines.

PERHAPS the strongest indication that the United States had backed down on its original demands came from President Kennedy himself in his conversation with three newsmen over the major television networks on Dec. 17. He had been asked whether, if international inspection of missile sites in Cuba had been accomplished, it would have materially affected the chances of peace as between the Soviet Union and the United States. Mr. Kennedy replied:

"No, I don't think that would have materially affected it, because I don't think we would have gotten the kind of inspection which really is necessary, because a totalitarian system cannot accept the kind of inspection which really is desirable. What you are saying, really, is that Cuba be opened, the Soviet Union be opened. They are not going to open it, because a totalitarian system must exist only in secrecy."

But the Soviets did propose an international inspection in Cuba under United Nations auspices, and this helped to give the impression that the United States had won its point on this issue. Mr. Khrushchev in his Oct. 28 message had said:

"As I had informed you in the letter of Oct. 27, we are prepared to reach agreement to enable representatives of the United Nations to verify the dismantling of these means."

Mr. Kennedy had replied on the same day as follows:

"I welcome Chairman Khrushchev's statesmanlike decision to stop building bases in Cuba, dismantling offensive weapons and returning them to the Soviet Union under United Nations verification."

NOW THE DEBATE between American and Soviet representatives at U.N. headquarters in New York on the subject of inspection has become stalemated. The President's latest statement — on Dec. 17 — indicates that the United States has little chance now of verifying on the ground whether all the missiles and bombers have actually been removed.

Mr. Kennedy apparently is satisfied to take the word of the Soviets instead of insisting on inspection. This naturally gives Castro a free hand once more, and there is, of course, no blockade or "quarantine" of Soviet ships.

The Soviet government, moreover, still has a potential base 90 miles from the United States which can furnish a certain leverage to the Soviets in future crises.

So the situation is back where it was before, but this time with Castro getting a new lease on life for his revolutionary government — secure against any invasion from the United States.

History Today

Today is Friday, Dec. 28th, the 362nd day of 1962. There are three days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1933, the acting secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau Jr., issued an order calling in all gold coin, bullion and certificates. He also called in certificates still outside the Treasury of the Federal Reserve banks and their member institutions.

On this day: In 1763, New York claimed territory west of the Connecticut River, including what now is the state of Vermont.

In 1836, Spain recognized Mexico's independence.

In 1908, an estimated 84,000 lives were lost when an earthquake totally destroyed the city of Messina, Sicily.

In 1951, Hungary freed four U.S. airmen forced down over that country by Russian planes more than one month earlier. The U.S. paid $120,000 in fines.

In 1954, Gov. John Lodge of Connecticut was appointed U.S. ambassador to Spain.

Today's birthdays: Composer Roger Sessions is 68. Comedian Sam Levenson is 51.

...And Now a $99 Billion Budget

You'll be getting the word soon about the size of the tax cut that President Kennedy hopes to mesh with a record $99 billion federal budget.

He and some of the top financial and economic figures in the nation sit down today for a marriage of minds on the stickiest domestic problem of the day.

We feel it is time Kennedy dropped the whip and extended a hand to the U. S. businessman. But we also feel that attempting to couple that gesture with a jacked-up spending program may put salt in the hand that pretends to soothe the wounds.

UNTIL NOW, the President has talked about chopping the individual and corporate tax load while stabilizing the federal outlay. Now he and his high-level minds hope to build a $5 billion budget increase on a fiscal foundation weakened by a revenue-draining react to the tax-cut vitamin.

The principle of more than recovering the lost revenue by stimulating the economy can look pretty bright on paper. But we aren't sure Congress should take paper principles too much to heart.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY seems to believe he has in the tax cut an instant cure for tired money.

The prescription may have its merits, but the healing process is gradual. And even out the extra burden of increased spending, the economy would be slow to react to the tax-cut vitamin.

The need for he cure is immediate. But we don't think the doctor can jab a needle in one arm and cut a vein in the other and expect his patient to be on his feet the next day.

Cuban Prisoners Came In Handy

There is no shock left in the idea that the United States is paying ransom money for Cubans captured in the Bay of Pigs fiasco.

It no longer is shocking to realize that the Castro regime in Cuba is capable of doing such a thing. It is capable of doing anything that comes to its distorted mind. The world has madmen at large again.

All that's shocking now is that the Castro regime should crawl on its belly to get food and medical supplies from the United States.

Here is the protegee of the Soviet Union admitting to the world it is trading human flesh for the necessities of life. This is worse than the abortive prisoners for tractors deal.

Cuba had no capacity for industrial production. It could not make tractors. But Cuba has fed itself in the past. It has afforded medicine for its people with the income from its exports.

When it was in the sphere of Western influence, it never fell back on shoddy deals to get food and medical supplies for its people. In the days when it looked to the United States for a helping hand in a time of crisis, it never appealed to another government for medical supplies.

Everybody with a shred of compassion hopes all the prisoners may be ransomed safely. In the kind of a world that does not know how to rid itself of traffic in human flesh, $53 million worth of food and medical supplies for 1,113 human beings is a good trade—less than $48,000 apiece.

It is indeed an oddity and a monstrosity that the Soviet Union is believed to have spent upward of a billion dollars to turn Cuba into a military base but cannot see its way clear to giving the Cubans the food and medicine they need to sustain life while waiting for the retaliation that would come with Armageddon.

There may well be a run on witness chairs early in the New Year in Washington. Congressional committees, grand juries and special executive agencies are preparing hot seats — and many a labor leader will be in them facing old "friends."

"Sen. McClellan has been preparing one probe which — while not as melodramatic as his previous inquests, may have greater impact and provoke sharper outcries from more influential labor men than did his previous hearings.

The Arkansas gentleman's Permanent Investigations subcommittee, is preparing to investigate defense plant strikes, such as the recent 48-hour stoppage at Lockheed. Mr. McClellan, the old skybolt hurler, wants to outlaw such walkouts as that one. It was called by the International Association of Machinists.

It should be noted that such a probe differs sharply from the hearings on missile base and space center construction strikes and interunion feuds.

THE SENATOR looked into those — and the White House set up the Presidential Missile Sites Labor Commission. This got action.

Now the senator believes there is a strike-gap which must be closed. There is no such commission covering stoppages inside the defense plants, such as Lockheed, which makes among killer; or Boeing, which is working on the Dyna-Soar, the space war ship; or the Electric Boat plant which turns out the atomic Polaris-carrying submarine.

What will bring down on the senator considerable labor wrath will be hearings on the "agency shop." These inquiries will be built into the broader investigation of the defense plant strikes.

The "agency shop" is in a factory in which the union, in addition to representing its members, is the agent for employees who refuse to join up or for some other reason are not union members.

This "agency shop," created by Arthur Goldberg, also means that the non-joiner must pay the union a fee for its services. The fee usually equals the amount of dues paid by the regular union member.

There is no timetable yet for these hearings. The committee's man, operating with a small staff, has been busier than a toymop Santa Claus.

THIS STAFF has been looking into the procurement of the fabulous F-111. Only the senator and his closest associates know exactly what they seek in the probe of the four-to-six-billion-dollar program to produce in mass a craft which can fly 2½ times the speed of sound, and perform triple threat as a fighter, a low-level tactical bomber and a reconnaissance craft. The F-111, if successful, should be able to fly anywhere on earth in a day without refueling.

Orders have been placed with General Dynamics in Fort Worth, and with Grumman in Bethpage, L.I., New York. It will be built by members of the Machinists Union.

By working far more than a 65-hour week, Mr. Adelman's staff also is preparing for the committee's hearing on the international narcotics networks. Most of this global apparatus is operated by the American crime syndicate, with which McClellan has tangled before.

BUT NOT ALL the investigations which will excite the land in the next 120 days will be public. In addition to the score of grand juries probing the Teamsters Union there is one which has been looking into a union or two which usually are not involved in these grim matters.

No one breaches grand jury security, but it is known that Al Hartnett, erstwhile secretary-treasurer of the International (IUE), has testified before such an inquiry. Some FBI agents, who have been operating in Washington, also were heard.

Mr. Hartnett has been feuding — not very successfully — with IUE president Jim Carey. At the last union convention Hartnett lost this duel. A few days ago he was suspended by Mr. Carey and the union's executive board for not taking orders.

While the Justice Department's grand juries are sitting all over the country, the Labor Department is preparing some exciting probes of its own.

Dear Ann Landers: My son is 15 years old and he has been going to boy-girl parties since he was 12. I was shocked to see your advice to the Canadian mother.

You said a boy 14 was too young for kissing games and that she should keep him at home. Just because the boy won a prize for kissing a girl for 15 minutes is no reason to be hard on him.

Teen-agers today want to be part of the gang. It's very hard to be the only one in the group who can't do something, or go some place. The teen-ager who is made to feel "different" develops an inferiority complex and he comes to hate his parents because their restrictions made him an outcast.

I see nothing wrong with a little experimentation at an early age. I agree the passionae kissing for a 14-year-old wouldn't be good, but these kids are only playing at being grownups. Why spoil their fun? — UNDERSTANDING MOTHER.

Dear Mother: My desk is stacked high with letters from teen-agers who are in deep trouble as a result of "experimenting" and playing at being grownup.

It's interesting that you endorse kissing games for 14-year-old boys, but not passionate kissing. Do you honestly believe you can tell kids HOW to kiss once they have started? Well, I can tell you, Lady, they aren't going to ask.

At 14 boys should be expending their energies in scouting, sports and school activities. The kissing can come a few years later without damage to their personalities, social status, or love for their parents.

Matter of Fact

Some popular songs were originally seamen's "chanties" or "chanties." These were songs sung by the sailors on merchant ships as they worked. This form of singing and the name for it was not new with the sailors, however. It came from the French Canadian lumbermen who sang as they hauled their logs. The English word is a corruption of the French word, chanter, "to sing."

Greenford Couple Celebrate Silver Wedding Anniversary

GREENFORD — Forty-five friends and relatives gathered Christmas Eve to observe the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bennett of RD 5, Salem, in their home.

A white lace tablecloth covered the table which was centered with a silver money tree. The cake was decorated with 25 red roses.

They were married Dec. 24, 1937, at the home of the bride by Rev. Funk, former minister of the Greenford Christian Church. Mrs. Bennett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Harris of Boyers Corner and Mr. Bennett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Benneet.

74 Attend Traffic Safety Class at E. Palestine Court

EAST PALESTINE — Seventy-four persons convicted of traffic violations appeared Thursday evening at eastern area court for Judge Herbert E. Arfman's traffic safety class—a movie and discussion.

Cpl. Robert Hovater of State Highway Patrol Post 15, Lisbon, spoke on "Safety and General Driving Behaviour," and showed the film, "Mechanized Death." Judge Luther Donbar of northwest area court, Salem, also attended.

Judge Arfman handed down fines totaling $160 for 14 motorists yesterday. Eight others failed to appear and forfeited $130 in appearance bonds.

More Fighting Reported Near Elisabethville

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Shooting broke out again between U.N. and Katangan troops on the outskirts of Elisabethville Thursday night and continued through the night, according to reliable reports reaching Brussels from Kitwe, Northern Rhodesia.

The reports from Kitwe said heavy shooting was still going on at 8:30 a.m.

Telegraph and telephone communications between Elisabethville and Brussels were interrupted.

Steady shooting was heard near plants of the Union Miniere Company and another European concern, and all personnel of the two plants were evacuated to safety, according to the Kitwe reports.

The reports said Katanga President Moise Tshombe and the chief U.N. representative in Katanga, Eliud Mathu, met Thursday night to discuss a cease-fire.

No other details were available so far.

It was the second shooting reported this week between U.N. and Katangan troops in the Elisabethville area. Heavy shooting continued for several hours on Christmas day, although the U.N. command claimed its forces did not fire a shot. The Katangans shot down a U.N. helicopter, killed an Indian lieutenant and beat up other members of the helicopter crew.

Tension has mounted in Elisabethville since U.N. Secretary-General U Thant announced he was stepping up pressure to end Katanga's secession from the central Congo government and the United States sent a military mission to the Congo last week.

Dr. Kelsey became known as the heroine of the thalidomide episode by refusing to permit U.S. marketing of the German drug despite what she described as the "great pressure brought to bear."

For this, Dr. Kelsey, 48, received a gold medal for distinguished government service from President Kennedy who told her that the hopes "we have for all our children" were riding with her decision to bar the drug.

Patrol Warns About New Year's Driving

Sgt. Edward Mallory, officer in charge of the Lisbon district barracks of the State Highway Patrol, cautioned motorists today to remain alert during the long New Year's weekend.

"Unless some drivers change their driving habits, the holiday may be an unhappy one," he commented.

He urged all motorists to watch their speed and obey the rules of the road, including courtesy to other drivers. "The State Patrol will be looking for violators, too," he added.

Camp Skating Pond Is Open to Public

Ice skating, free to the public, is available at the Camp Service Co. pond at the corner of the Depot and Pidgeon Roads, south of the city.

"The surface is fairly smooth," reported Robert Camp.

The acre and a half pond was created about eight years ago and is flooded each winter. The spot is illuminated for night skating. "When the lights are on, the pond is open and safe," Camp said.

Floyd succeeds Byron Frederick of Columbus. Becher replaces Dr. K. K. Burris of Greenfield.

DiSalle made another "appointment" in effect—albeit a short-term one—when he asked James H. Maloon to remain in the finance directorship Maloon intended to vacate Thursday. "He has got some things to finish yet," said the governor.

DiSalle said Maloon, who reportedly has accepted a post with a foundation in Michigan, hadn't replied to a letter advising him he was needed on the job. But "he was in about noon," DiSalle noted, "so I suppose everything is all right."

Attaches said Maloon's office stay Thursday was brief. Asst. Director John Stanley has been authorized to sign documents in Maloon's absence.

6 Countians Elected To Steer Committee

The Columbiana County Steer Club elected six persons to the county steer committee Thursday night at Lisbon Grange hall.

Adults elected for two-year terms were Paul Mollenkopf, East Palestine, and Harold Thompson and George McPherson, Hanoverton.

Elected to one-year terms were club members Janet Ferguson, Wellsville; Sam Wallace, Homeworth, and Terry Kampher, Salineville.

Tom Mollwain of Indiana, Pa., talked on "Selecting a Feeder Calf," and Miss Ferguson discussed her experiences as a steer club member.

A movie was shown. Instrumental music was furnished by Tom and Sherry Mollenkopf, Ron Freer and Louise Klitz. John Ward of Columbiana, chairman of the steer committee, was in charge.

Women of the grange served refreshments to 60.

Hearing In Threat Case Is Postponed

The hearing for Ross Wiggers of the Metzger Hotel, charged with threatening the life of a man, has been continued until Jan. 17 at 2 p.m., according to Judge Luther Donbar of Northwest County Court.

Wiggers was scheduled to appear Thursday for the hearing stemming from a verbal altercation at the home of John B. Gunesch of Van Buren Ave., MC 22, Salem.

The defendant is free on $50 bond after pleading innocent to a charge of threatening to kill Gunesch at the latter's home on Dec. 15.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: When you are painting windows, try my plan of keeping paint from the glass: Take newspapers, or any painting windows, try my plan paper with a straight edge, dampen well with warm water and spread them all over the window panes where they will cling until you are finished with your job. When these are dry they are easily removed.

MRS. LARRY SNOOK.

This is one of the most effective ideas I've ever heard.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I've kept house for 18 years but I have learned so much from this column that I hope you continue forever.

The handiest thing around our house is my husband. Here are some of the things he has done:

First, he put two sets of measuring spoons on one ring. This is a small thing but very wonderful in its way. In the middle of a recipe I don't have to stop and wash a spoon that has been used for liquids in order to measure dry ingredients.

He also made two 14-inch shelves out of all our 28 inch high closet shelves. This doubles the storage space and makes a much neater closet.

My husband made me a one-foot extension cord. This is just right for cords that don't quite reach, and you don't have all those extra feet of cord to roll up and hide.

He made a picture frame edging for a two by four-foot pegboard, painted it and mounted it on the wall above my sewing machine. I bought lots of hooks and have all of my thread, scissors, tape measures, etc., at my fingertips.

"G."

DEAR HELOISE: I hate to starch every week so I found a way to circumvent it. Here's how it is done:

Pattern

SIZES
12-20

For work, painting, cooking, gardening—slip into our clever coveralls. Easy-sew, easy-fit, with one-button closing and smart side-slits.

Printed Pattern 4628: Misses' Sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 16 requires 2½ yards 45-inch fabric.

Fifty cents in coins for each pattern—add 10 cents for each pattern for 1st-class mailing. Send to Anne Adams, care of The Salem News, 156 Pattern Dept., 243 West 17th St., New York 11, N.Y. Print plainly name, address with zone, size and style number.

OVER 100 ANSWERS to "what-to-wear"—in our new full color Fall-Winter Pattern Catalog. Casual, dressy, school—all sizes! Send 35 cents now.

I save up the clothes to be starched until I have a real big batch. Then I starch them with a permanent type starch and hang them outside to dry.

This is tedious too, but once you've done it you are set for months. I don't think it costs anymore than starching every wash day with ordinary starch.

With the permanent type starch in my clothing I find that I can put them in the dryer while they are still damp.

MRS. WILLIAM HOLE.

DEAR HELOISE: I pre-rinse all loads of laundry in cold water. I just throw laundry in my washing machine, set on rinse, and let them go. After they spin, I reset my washer to fill on the regular cycle of the washing machine. This fills the machine with hot water and I add one-fourth cup of soda and one-half cup of good detergent. And that's it.

I really get clean clothes. No stains left.

This removes all of my stains—you name the type; especially my teen age's dirty socks. I speak from the experience of six children from tots to teens and we all are "sock-walkers". Our house is like a Dutch house—everyone's shoes are left at the door from habit, not request. We just like comfort.

MOTHER OF SOCK-WALKERS.

AND, GALS, if you are cleaning a cabinet that is next to another one for goodness sake clean all of them at one time. It's a waste of time to clean one without cleaning the adjacent one. These buzzards jump from one crack to another one quicker than we can skin a cat!

Don't waste your time cleaning one shelf today and the next one tomorrow. Wait until you have time to do them all.

Another thing, while you are cleaning, throw away all of those half empty things you haven't used for years. If you haven't used any of them in that length of time... chances are that you probably never will.

If you have two half-empty syrup bottles (and don't we all) pour them together so only one bottle will sit on your shelf. Makes for easier housekeeping.

Now... go get those weevils! Another hint, if you will put a few pieces of bay leaf in things such as flour, meal, etc., which ordinarily collect weevils... it will be a great surprise. Bay leaf is like poison to a weevil. This condiment will not taste in your product either.

Isn't housekeeping fun when we learn the easy way?

Love you,

Granges

THIS LITTLE BEAR WENT TO MARKET

A "bear" is one who thinks the market is going down. A "bull" thinks contrarywise and may have just as much right to his opinion. It's largely a matter of judgment.

And judgment plays a major role when it comes to investing your dollars

Today, more and more people are turning to Investment Companies because the handling of other peoples' funds is their business - because professional judgment guides their operations.

Squashed Basket Helps Loyola Sweep To 8 Victories

Ramblers Crush Arkansas 81-62

Advance In Oldest Holiday Tournament

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
First it was James Naismith and a peach basket. Now it's Paul Marchalls and a squashed basket. And between the inventor and the innovator, Loyola of Chicago has turned a matter of inches into a huge advantage.

On the second day of the holiday tournament scramble Thursday, some favorites felt like Santa climbing down the chimney—not much room to spare—but it was a different story for the powerful Ramblers.

The nation's highest scoring basketball team, undefeated and third-ranked, raced to an 81-62 victory over Arkansas in the first round of the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City. It was the eighth victory for the Ramblers and another triumph for Marchalls and the squashed basket.

Shortens Hoop To 15 Inches

Loyola Coach George Ireland stumbled upon the Pierre, S.D., innovator two years ago. Marchalls had tampered slightly with the game Naismith invented and took the liberty of trimming the standard 18-inch rim to 15. The Ramblers used it prior to the season in six weeks of practice.

"I don't know where he makes these things," says Ireland, maybe in his basement, but I liked the idea right off. It has made us a better shooting team." That's the way the hot-shooting Ramblers felt as they moved into tonight's semifinals of the All-College—the oldest holiday tournament in the country, but only one of a host of major college extravaganzas holding the spotlight on the nation's basketball courts.

Here's a capsule rundown on the other results:

Toledo Loses 76-71

All-College—Memphis State advanced with Loyola, beating Toledo 76-71.

Los Angeles Classic—Colorado State U. outclassed Northwestern 75-50 and qualified for Saturday night's final along with UCLA, which topped St. Louis, 85-66.

Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.—Unbeaten Georgia Tech edged Virginia Tech 73-72 in overtime and Florida defeated Rice 66-57 to set up tonight's final.

Hurricane Classic at Miami—Unbeaten Miami crushed Cornell 94-74 and will take on Pitt, 96-73 conqueror of LSU, in tonight's windup.

Queen City at Buffalo, N.Y.—Sixth-ranked Arizona State squeezed by Rhode Island 89-83 and Canisius belted South Carolina 85-72.

Big Eight at Kansas City—Oklahoma State nipped Oklahoma 49-48 and Kansas State walloped Missouri 61-43 to complete the first round.

Far West Portland, Ore.—California outlasted Seattle 85-77 in overtime and Oregon State handed Idaho its first defeat 80-53 to complete the first round.

West Coast at San Francisco—St. Mary's whipped Los Angeles Loyola 83-71 and San Francisco beat Portland 56-50 to complete the first round.

Cal. Post Win In Overtime

Gulf South at Shreveport, La.—Eastern Kentucky edged TCU 69-65 and Southern Mississippi beat Northwestern Louisiana 85-71 to complete the first round.

Still in the spotlight, but outside the tournament limelight, two of the top ten elite came through with victories. Second-ranked Ohio State, getting 24 points from Gary Bradds, had to battle all the way to subdue stubborn Butler 66-62, but fifth-ranked Kentucky had no such problem with Dartmouth, winning 95-49.

Liston, Patterson Rematch Is Likely

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite strong opposition, a rematch for the heavyweight championship between titleholder Sonny Liston and former crown-wearer Floyd Patterson loomed today as a distinct possibility following a somewhat clandestine meeting between representatives of the two camps.

Promoter Tom Bolan, president of Championship Sports Inc., revealed Thursday he is discussing a rematch with Patterson: Jack Nilon, Liston's adviser; Nilon's attorney, and Patterson's attorney.

The Thursday night meeting was held at Nilon's New York residence. Before the closed-door session, Nilon said either Baltimore or Las Vegas was the likely site but reminded that Patterson would call the shot for a March or April fight.

"I hope," said Bolan, "we'll be able to iron out an agreement and reduce it to writing for a contract. I don't think we'll be able to do it all in one night."

What about the two main items standing in the way of the proposed rematch—Liston's purse from the first fight and the opposition of World Boxing Association officials?

"Liston will get the money (more than $200,000) before he fights," said Bolan's brother, Al, who is charged with inspection of sites for the rematch.

Tom Bolan said he wasn't concerned about the statements made by WBA officials, who have publicly stated that Patterson should meet one of the other challengers before fighting Liston again. Both Maryland and Nevada are members of the WBA.

Emile Bruneau, WBA championship committee chairman, said Monday his committee would recommend the automatic suspension from the WBA of any state or country that accepted a Liston-Patterson rematch at this time. In their first fight, Liston knocked out Patterson in 2 minutes, 6 seconds of the first round at Chicago, Sept. 25.

OU Drills For Sun Bowl Clash Monday

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The Ohio University Bobcats had a heavy schedule today including a workout and a skull session in preparation for the Sun Bowl football game against West Texas State Monday.

The Bobcats arrived two hours late Thursday. A head-wind forced an extra refueling stop on the flight from Columbus, Ohio. Thirty minutes after arrival, the Bobcats were working out under the lights at El Paso High School field. Coach Bill Hess called the drill to overcome stiffness from the Christmas layoff.

A planned motorcade through downtown El Paso was limited to a few hundred yards—from the International Airport to the nearby Hilton Inn.

The Bobcats have a skull session this morning and then will be guests of the El Paso Touchdown Club at luncheon. Hess has scheduled a 3 p.m. workout.

Frazser, Laver Plan To Retire

Aussies Shut Out Mexican Stars 5-0

By WILL GRIMSLEY
BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Neale Fraser and Rod Laver, two of the latest in Australia's long line of tennis champions, closed out their Davis Cup careers with victories today which gave Australia a 5-0 sweep over Mexico in the 1962 challenge round.

It was the last big time match as an amateur for both. Fraser, 29, limping and leg weary, put on a tremendous fighting exhibition for a 3-6, 11-9, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4 triumph over Mexico's No. 1 ace, Rafael Osuna, in a marathon match which lasted two hours, 45 minutes.

The handsome Melbourne left-hander, who won Wimbledon in 1960 and the U.S. championship in 1959 and 1960 announced it was the swan song of his long competitive career.

"I have been traveling around the world playing tennis for 10 years," he said. "I have had it."

Then Laver, winner of every major tournament during the past year in a grand slam paralleling that of Don Budge in 1938, turned back talented Antonio Palafox, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4, 8-6.

With the same deft left hand which carried him to a world pinnacle in amateur tennis, Laver Saturday is expected to sign a $10,000 contract for a professional career.

Oklahoma's Deere Back In Lineup

Wide Open Football Figured For 3 Grid Games Saturday

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Wide open football was predicted today for Saturday's Gator Bowl, East-West and Blue-Gray games and the Louisiana State-Texas Cotton Bowl meeting New Year's Day.

Rip Engle, whose Penn State 9-1 club meets Florida, 6-4, in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., wouldn't say right out he expected a high scoring game, but he hinted at it.

Charlie McClendon, LSU coach, said so right out.

"It will be a wide open game," said Charlie.

McClendon's forecast was rather surprising considering that both teams are noted for their defense. But he explained that each squad would have to go all out offensively in order to crack the other's portals. Texas had a 9-0-1 record during the regular campaign while LSU was 8-1-1.

In San Francisco, scene of the East-West Shrine Game, Ara Parseghian of Northwestern, assisting head coach Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue in reading the East squad, declared: "The skills are there to make for an offensive explosion."

With this in mind, Mollenkopf has been drilling his club on goal line stands as the practice session for each team began tapering off.

And, in Montgomery, Ala., where the Blue-Gray game will be played, both coaches, Tom Nugent, the Rebels' head man, and Bob Devaney of the North are planning wide-open-game strategy. Nugent is working up a shotgun formation with two wingbacks and split ends.

The remainder of the major bowl schedule coming up in the next week pits West Texas State and Ohio University, each with an 8-2 mark, in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex. Monday and three other games of New Year's Day, Southern California 10-0 against Wisconsin 8-1 in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.; Alabama 9-1 versus Oklahoma 8-2 in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla. and Mississippi 9-0 against Arkansas 9-1 in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

There was good news for Oklahoma supporters, but sad tidings from the Southern California camp Thursday.

Flu-ridden Monte Deere, the Sooners' fine quarterback, rejoined his teammates and went through the full practice.

Meanwhile, Southern California was jolted as reserve back Ron Heller was injured and feared lost for the Rose Bowl game. Heller, a sophomore who netted 216 yards in 55 carries, suffered an injured left knee while blocking in a dummy scrimmage.

OSU Trips Stubborn Butler 66-62

A word from THERON at the Country Store

New Year's Eve the Country Store will be open till 1 a.m. as usual. We will be serving sauerkraut and pork in the restaurant section, all you can eat for just 50c.

We will be open New Year's day regular hours. No trading stamps but the lowest prices in the area. This coming year make a resolution to save those good American dollars at the Country Store. They will get you everything that stamps will and a million other things as well.

So They Say

When you look out ahead as to what the next steps are in this nuclear and missile field, there are steps that already tax the capacity of the mind of man, and they involve enormous resources. . . committed to the anti-missile missile.

Pinch for Ready Cash To Continue

Rhodes Has Tough Problem In Ohio's Financial Situation

By ART PARKS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With all the talk about money and the need for more of it to meet the state's program commitments for the next two years, one stark fact cannot be ignored: Right now the state doesn't have any. The state government has been leading a hand-to-mouth existence for many months. It has been stalling off creditor John to pay creditor Joe as well as robbing Peter to pay Paul. Finance Director James H. Maloon has managed the treasury's available cash carefully so that there have been no payless pay-days and most of the state's big obligations have been met with reasonable promptness. But it has been touch-and-go all the way. Exactly where the state stands financially as the administration of Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle prepares to give way to that of Republican Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes has been a matter of debate. Republican estimates of how far the state will be in the hole by the time the two-year budget period ends next June 30 have ranged as high as $60 million. Maloon doesn't agree at all. By the end of the budget period, he predicts, the state will have the money to pay all back bills and will have only the problem of finding $13 to $15 million to clear up its welfare obligations for the bookkeeping year. Most of the deficiency, he says, will be in money to match local poor relief spending. In whatever financial shape the state emerges from the budget year, the pinch for ready cash is almost certain to continue for many months unless another source of revenue is found, or reduction made in subsidies of personnel. In any change of state administration, numerous personnel changes are made, but generally for political rather than economy reasons. This time, however, economy-minded leaders of the Republican-controlled 105th General Assembly probably would welcome a sizeable reduction in the state payroll to provide a financial breathing spell. Could state subsidies be cut—things like school aid and assistance for the aged, the blind and the disabled? It isn't likely because of the certain storms of protest. New or increased taxes? Some members of the new administration and legislature might agree, reluctantly, but others apparently will resist to the bitter end. The struggle over the tax issue could be one of the interesting developments of the legislative session which opens Jan. 7. DiSalle found the state treasury about $13 million in the red when he took over four years ago. He pushed a new-tax program through the legislature—and the voters never let him forget it. Republicans took over the General Assembly two years later and he was soundly beaten in his bid for re-election last month. What course of action Rhodes will take in a similar financial situation remains, of course, to be seen. Rhodes has directed a study of the state's financial situation by two independent accounting firms to determine the state's actual financial position. Just who will understand the accountants' analysis when it finally is reached is anybody's guess. Such are the problems, the challenges and choices of Ohio 1963. Almost anything you can talk about these days costs money. And the big question which is shaping up for Ohio and the rest of the nation seems to be this: How will the relatively small generation born in the depression days of the thirties pay for the needs of those born in the baby boom since World War II?

POLICE SCANDAL — Cleveland, Ohio, policeman William Marlowe, an 11 year veteran apprehended by fellow officers while attempting a burglary, implicated 11 fellow policemen as sharing in proceeds of burglaries.

Common Pleas Court

New Case
Wilbur H. Seaman, Wellsville RD 1 vs Margaret Seaman, also known as Margaret Strickland, Cleveland; action to declare marriage of Dec. 13, 1961, at Wellsville, null and void because defendant allegedly was married at the time, unknown to plaintiff, and represented herself as Margaret Elkins, an unmarried woman at the time of securing marriage license in Probate Court at Lisbon.

New Entries
Johnson & Knowles Plumbing Co. vs Robert F. Morrison, et al; settled and dismissed at defendant's costs.
Nicholas W. Sutmaier vs Plastoseal Products Corp.; same.
Kenneth M. Brown vs the Great A & P Tea Co.; case dismissed at plaintiff's costs.
McMillen Feeder Finance Inc. vs Dominic Patrono, et al; judgment by confession on cognovit note for plaintiff for $17,410.16 and costs.

PLANNING UNIT TO MEET
A committee appointed to study regional planning will meet at 8 p.m. Monday, Jan. 7 in the County Agriculture Extension office at Lisbon. Floyd Lower of Lisbon is temporary chairman.

The Ohio Historical Society, founded in 1883, administers museums, historic houses, monuments, archaeological sites and nature preserves in 35 counties.

Everett Neill's Orchestra from Pittsburgh will play for Lisbon's 18th annual Yuletide Charity Ball Saturday night at David Anderson High School. The committee has mailed 400 invitations to the semi-formal party. The Lisbon Lionettes held a party and show for residents of the Columbiana County Home Sunday afternoon. Guest entertainers were the Country Rhythm Boys and the Ben Wilson family. Santa Claus made an appearance to present each resident with a treat. Following the entertainment, the Lionettes and their guests enjoyed a coverdish dinner at the Lions Cottage. The first meeting of the group in the new year will be Jan. 9 with Mrs. Howard May of Pleasant Heights.

DISTRICT 13, ORDER of Eastern Star, school of instruction is to be held Jan. 7, at the Canton Masonic Temple. Iva Chapter had arranged for bus accommodations, but so far, only a few reservations have been made. The local chapter will accept reservations from anyone in the district interested in making the trip by bus. Reservations will be accepted by Mrs. Ray Beers, and Mrs. Walter Cope until Jan. 4. Graham Steele of Denver, Colo., is visiting his father, Dr. J. F. Steele and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rose of N. Market St.

MR. AND MRS. Carl Morgan of N. Market St. entertained on Christmas Day her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Baker and son, Larry, of Oklahoma City, Okla., and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker of Leetonia. The Lester Bakers left Wednesday for their home. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Armstrong of N. Market St. were Christmas day guests of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Orin Newton of Columbiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dornon of E. High St. spent Christmas with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald DeLong of Parma. Mrs. A. E. Christopher of Vine St. who was a Christmas visitor with friends at Bellvue, Pa., has returned home.

MR. AND MRS. W. B. Ashton of Lakewood, formerly of Lisbon, spent the past weekend with their son, Mr. and Mrs. R. Dale Ashton of S. Lincoln Ave. Christmas Day, the senior Ashtons left Cleveland for Lubbock, Texas, to visit their son, Mr. and Mrs. William Ashton. Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lewis of N. Market St. were their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Garling and children, Ann and Matt, of Chicago, their son, Mr. and Mrs. Blair Lewis, and Mr. and Mrs. John Chilik of Lisbon and the senior Mrs. Lewis' father, Walter Blair of Alliance.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
All Children Need to Feel Accepted

It is said that the gods visit the sins of the father upon the children. It would be even more true to say that the mental attitudes of the mother are perpetuated in her offspring. When these are good healthy attitudes this is fine but when they are not a vicious cycle is set up that is hard to break. In view of the Dr. Brandstadt great amount of time and effort put forth to give the baby and the growing child a worth as a human being if she should take time out occasionally to look at the child's emotional world. First of all, the mother must have an appreciation of her own worth as a human being if she is to impart a sense of dignity and is especially appropriate that we healthy physical environment, it security to her child. It is important most of all to give the child a feeling of being wanted. MANY A MOTHER who at one stage or another harbors a feeling of hostility or resentment against her child develops a feeling of guilt about her hostility and tries to compensate by being overly indulgent. In the long run this does a great deal of harm. Instead, the mother must recognize her hostility for what it is. If it is deep-seated and overwhelming she should seek the reason in her own past. In this search she may or may not need the help of a well-qualified psychiatrist. If, however, the hostility is a result of fatigue or a trivial chain of events that will straighten itself out in a few hours, she must learn to laugh it off, dismiss any feeling of guilt, and, above all, not take it out on the baby. ONE ATTITUDE that it is important to give your child is a feeling of proud acceptance of his or her sex. Heaven knows you can't change it but you can do untold harm if by word or deed you ever give a girl the idea that you were disappointed that she was not a boy or vice versa. Some families have been accused of filling their back yards full of daughters in an effort to produce a son. No matter how many daughters you have or how badly you wanted a son, when another daughter arrives it is unworthy of you not to be happy. You should be glad that she is born into such a fine family and glad that it is within your power to see that she grows up to be a proud and useful member of her community. FINALLY, when a child is ready to stand on his own two feet, let go. One of the commonest and worst traits of mothers is possessiveness. This has been responsible for the violent reaction against "momism."

Dr. Brandstadt great amount of time and effort put forth to give the baby and the growing child a worth as a human being if she should take time out occasionally to look at the child's emotional world.
